A FAREWELL THANK YOU FROM ARCHBISHOP SAMUEL J. AQUILA

My Brothers and Sisters,

As I prepare to enter retirement, my heart is filled above all with gratitude — to God, to the priests and deacons of this local Church, to consecrated women and men, and to the lay faithful who have walked together as missionary disciples in Northern Colorado. From the beginning of my ministry here, I have been convinced that the Lord is at work among us, calling us ever more deeply to conversion, communion and mission.

In my years as your Archbishop, I have often returned to the truth that the renewal of the Church does not begin with programs, but with encounter — an encounter with Jesus Christ, truly present in the Eucharist, alive in his Word, and active in his people.

I give thanks for the countless acts of fidelity, generosity and courage I have witnessed across our parishes, schools, ministries and families. These are signs of hope, even in times of challenge, and reminders that the Holy Spirit continues to guide the Church in every age, including — and especially — in our apostolic age.

ARCHBISHOP-DESIGNATE JAMES R. GOLKA

Archbishop-designate James R. Golka was born September 22, 1966, in Grand Island, Nebraska, the fourth of 10 children born to Robert and the late Patricia Golka. He graduated from Grand Island Central Catholic High School and attended Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska, from 1985-89, where he earned degrees in philosophy and theology.

He served as a Jesuit lay missionary volunteer for the Native American Missions in South Dakota from 1989-1990 before entering St. Paul Seminary in Minnesota, where he received both a Master of Divinity and Master of Arts in Sacramental Theology. He was ordained a priest for the Diocese of Grand Island on June 3, 1994, by Bishop Lawrence McNamara.

On April 30, 2021, Pope Francis named him the third Bishop of Colorado Springs, succeeding the late Bishop Michael Sheridan. His episcopal ordination took place on June 29, 2021, at Holy Apostles Church in Colorado Springs, with Archbishop Samuel J. Aquila and then-Archbishop Christophe Pierre, apostolic nuncio to the United States, serving as co-consecrators. His episcopal motto is “Stewards of God’s Mysteries.”

On Saturday, February 7, 2026, Pope Leo XIV appointed him the sixth Archbishop of the Archdiocese of Denver.

with a new Archbishop
JAMES ROBERT GOLKA
“Praise to you Lord Jesus Christ.”
*“We are made for a mission.
I’m all in!
I’m ready!
How about you!”*
