CALLED BY NAME
HONORING FAITHFUL
YOUNG MEN

April 25-26 Called by Name Sunday

CAMPAIGN OVERVIEW Last spring, our archdiocese hosted a diocesan-wide Called by Name campaign to identify faithful young men (ages 15-30's) who love their faith and may be open to the priesthood. This initiative was very fruitful, allowing the Vocations Office to connect with many exceptional candidates. In light of the great fruit of this initiative, our archdiocese is hosting Called By Name again in 2026. Parishioners will be invited to submit the names of young men they believe may be open to the priesthood. Men whose names are submitted will receive a letter of encouragement from Archbishop Golka, resources from the Vocation Team, and invitations to upcoming discernment events. The timeline below outlines the steps for implementing this campaign at your parish.

ARCHBISHOP GOLKA CALLS FAITHFUL TO RENEWAL AND COMMUNION IN FIRST EASTER HOMILY IN DENVER

“Alleluia! Alleluia! He is risen! He is risen indeed!” echoed through the Cathedral Basilica of the Immaculate Conception in Denver as Archbishop James Golka encouraged the faithful to consider what they celebrated Easter Sunday: Christ is truly risen! Far from a merely historical event 2,000 years ago, Jesus’ Resurrection has eternal weight — even up to today.

“Jesus has risen from the dead; everything is different today. Everything is different. Everything we thought we knew, now it's a brand-new world in a brand-new way,” the archbishop said. “The Resurrection of Jesus provides for us a power and a strength that we could not imagine before.”

Now, this brand-new world that God re-creates through the Resurrection of Jesus is not a factory reset situation, he explained. Far from it — because Jesus is risen from the dead, he renews all things.

“Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, he renews all things. That's different than he renews new things. If he just renewed new things, that might leave us out. But he renews all things, which means that's us. He renews this entire world,” Archbishop Golka explained. “So he doesn't want to just blow up this world and start again, he wants to transform this entire world, and today, frankly, he's going to begin with a little bit of bread and wine on this altar that will become his Body and Blood fed to you and to me so his risen life will be in us then we can go forth and transform the world.”

That renewal and transformation lead to a deeper communion — especially through the sacraments of Baptism and Eucharist, or Holy Communion — both of which give us a share in God’s own life.

“By our Baptism, divine life is not only available to us; if you're baptized, divine life is in you right now,” the archbishop explained. “God's overarching desire is communion, friendship, marriage with you and with us. That's God's over-arching desire. He'll do anything to have communion with you.”
